THE COAL STRIKE

It is said the Republican leaders are very much alarmed about the effect the strike in the coal districts may have on the congressional elections. They are not so much concerned about the miners and the coal famine and the suffering which may be caused this winter on account of the advance in the price of coal.

Senator Hanna is quoted as saying: "Fully ninety per cent. of the American people sympathize with the strikers, and are against the operators in this fight. If the strikers need more money than organized labor can raise to carry on the battle, the people at large are willing to subscribe. I know of business men who are willing to contribute large checks rather than see the men starved into submission. They believe it would be a disgrace to American manhood if Baer and his associates were able to win the victory through the brute force of capital held in stubborn hands."

The Atlanta Journal, commenting on this statement, suggests that Senator Hanna "would probably make a hard fight against the proposition to reach the coal trust through the tariff, though that would be the most direct and effective method of relieving the people from their grasp."

We confess that we do not see how the matter could be reached through the tariff, because the statement is made of what should be good authority that ninety per cent. of the anthracite coal deposits of the world are in the State of Pennsylvania where the strike is. The owners of these coal beds have the money of the anthracite coal of the world, and how free trade or the removal of the tariff could affect the situation is not entirely clear to us.

President Roosevelt is endeavoring to relieve the situation by conference and compromise, but we do not expect to see him accomplish anything.

Then it is proposed that national ownership and operation of the anthracite coal mines be assumed by the exercise of the right of eminent domain with just compensation to the owners. This position is one of the planks in the Democratic platform of the State of New York. It is claimed that this course will solve the problem and assure peace in the mining regions and remove all cause for differences. This position we suppose is attempted to be sustained on the ground that it is better to have government monopoly than private monopoly and the additional ground that fuel like water is a public necessity. Just as well, it seems to us, to advocate government ownership of land and railroads and steamships, and do away altogether with private ownership of all public utilities. It is undemocratic and tends to imperialism.

And yet the situation is serious and unless some settlement is reached the price of coal will go up and the supply fall so far below the demand as to cause great suffering and hardship.

A TERRIBLE TAX

The cost of bad roads to the people of this country, especially the farmers, is so enormous that it is doubtful whether any adequate estimate of it has ever been made.

Those who have made a long and laborious study of the subject, however, have reached conclusions that are very impressive and suggestive.

The best authorities place the average haul of the American farmer in getting his produce to market, or to the nearest station, at twelve miles. The average cost per ton for haulings over the country roads is $3 for a twelve-mile haul, or 25 cents per ton per mile.

The total number of tons hauled per year by the farmers of this country is estimated at 300,000,000, which makes the cost of getting the surplus farm products of this country to the railroad stations or the local markets not less than $900,000,000, or more than the national debt. This amount also exceeds the total operating expenses of all the railroads in the United States. It is a surprising statement that it costs more to get the farm products of the country from the fields where they grew to the points where they enter the distributing system than it does to operate the whole railway system of the United States, which comprises one-half of the total railway mileage of the world. If the people of the United States could be brought to understand just what bad roads mean they would reduce the enormous tax that is thus levied. They could do it by improving the highways and neighborhood roads that lead from the great channels of trade to the farmers. They are beginning to understand the difference between good roads and bad ones and the result is to be seen in the remarkable betterment of roads in all parts of the country within the past ten years.

This good work is the best possible evidence of an advance in the material prosperity of the agricultural interests which are and must continue to be the backbone of the nation's strength.—Atlanta Journal.

This is another way to look at this question of a tax for good roads. The farmers are paying the big tax mentioned above by the Journal, whereas if a property tax were levied and put in good road building, other property would bear its proportion of the burden, and it receives the benefit. The more we think of it the more we are convinced of the correctness of the proposition that the only way to secure good roads is by taxation and that such a tax is the best investment the people can make and that it will pay greater dividends than any other, and that if we could once get started on good road building the trouble would be to hold the people back.

The honor of carrying off a prize at the State Fair far outweighs its intrinsic value.

We notice that the question of extending the electric road from Augusta to Aiken on to Edgefield and Saluda is being agitated. This would be a good thing for Newberry. Why not extend the road on to Newberry? Then in this connection we might develop the water power going to waste on Saluda river and which has so often been talked and written about. The road bed is graded from Saluda to Newberry. The road, as we understand it, is now in operation from Augusta to Aiken.

President Roosevelt had a meeting of his cabinet on Sunday to talk over his efforts at settlement of the coal strike. We hope he may be successful in effecting a settlement, but there is little prospect.

Epidemic of Whooping Cough.

Mr. W. H. Folk was in the city on Saturday and paid this office a pleasant call. He says there is an epidemic of whooping cough in the community in which he lives, the Reuben section, in the lower part of the county. Six of his children now have the disease, and one of these has developed membranous croup.

To the Councils of Bethlehem and Colony Churches.

Dear Brethren:—It is my desire to move to Newberry next Tuesday, the 14th. I will need at least eight (8) wagons. Please meet me at the parsonage at the time appointed. This is a request based upon an expressed willingness on your part.

Yours truly,
J. J. Long.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

We had a heavy rain Saturday night and Sunday morning.

On account of the very shall congregation at St. Paul's Sunday our communion was postponed until the third Sunday of this month.

There were five admissions to the church last Sunday by confirmation. There will also be an invitation given to any one who desire to unite with the church on the third Sunday of this month.

The council and members of St. Paul's church have extended a call to Rev. J. A. Sligh. This makes the thirty-eighth call this church or members have given successively to Mr. Sligh. He has accepted the call and will move to the parsonage to live by January 1.

News from Ex-Isior.

We have had good rains in this section and our farmers have commenced sowing oats.

Rev. Jas. D. Kinard, of Leesville, paid a brief visit to his mother's family here last week.

The service in the school house here Sunday afternoon was well attended as usual.

Mr. T. L. Wheeler and two of his children visited Mr. J. A. Rikard's family, of Long Lane section, last week.

Mrs. Willie Blanton, after a three week's stay with her father's family here, returned to her home at Graniteville last week.

Mrs. Morris and little child, of St. Luke's, have been spending a few days with her father's family, Mr. Cromer.

The pea crop in this section is good and our people are still hauling in hay pea food.

News From West End.

West End and Paradise baseball teams played a very interesting game of ball Saturday afternoon, the score being 5 to 3 in favor of West End. The batteries for West End were Leslie and Booser, and Rawlinson and Arthur for Paradise.

The ice cream festival given in banquet hall Saturday night for the benefit of the O'Neal Street church was quite a success. The cake which was to be given to the most popular young lady was awarded to Miss Elmira Oxner, she receiving 107 votes, which was 37 majority over eight other young ladies. The cake was one of the nicest I have ever seen. It was baked by H. A. Meyer and Son and weighed 2 1/2 pounds with an imitation of St. Michael's church in Charleston on the top. There were two other nice cakes bid off, one for 60 cents, which was sold to Mrs. Sanford, and the other for 50 cents, which was sold to Mr. Jas. F. Bouknight. Altogether the church cleared a neat little sum of about $30.

We are very sorry to learn that Mr. Ira Taylor is confined to his room with rheumatism, and hope to see him out in a few days.

CANDOR CURED BY BLOOD BALM.

ALL SKIN and Blood Diseases Cured. Mrs. M. L. Adams, Fredonia, Ala., took Botanic Blood Balm which effectually cured an eating cancer of the nose and face. The sores healed up perfectly. Many doctors had given up her case as hopeless. Hundreds of cases of cancer, eating sores, suppurating swellings, etc., have been cured by Blood Balm. Among others, Mrs. B. M. Guernsey, Warrior, Stand, Ala. Her nose and lip were raw as beef, with offensive discharge from the eating sores. Doctors advised cutting, but it failed. Blood Balm healed the sores, and Mrs. Guernsey is as well as ever. Botanic Blood Balm also cures eczema, itching, humors, scabs and scales, bone pains, ulcers, offensive pin-piles, blood poison, carbuncles, scrofula, risings and bumps on the skin and all blood troubles. Druggists $1 per large bottle. Sample of Botanic Blood Balm free and prepaid by writing Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. Describe trouble and special medical advice sent in sealed letter. It is certainly worth while investigating such a remarkable remedy, as Blood Balm cures the most awful, worst and most deep-seated blood diseases.

Purity.

Purity in flour ought to be an important consideration in every family. In making "Clifton" flour every grain of wheat is thoroughly cleaned before grinding, and is converted into flour in a hygienically clean, modern mill. The flour is purified, aerated and sifted through delicate silk cloths before it is sacked. Absolute purity is thus assured.

The best flour looks very much like any other flour when it is in the sack. The real test is in the baking. That's where "Clifton" flour excels by every test—exceeds in purity and perfection; in the quality and richness of the bread.

Pure flour really does not cost any more than flour that is not strictly pure. "Clifton" flour is guaranteed strictly pure wheat flour, and is sold at a reasonable price. "Clifton" has no rival. There is no better flour sold at any price. Bransford Mills, Owensboro, Ky.
